HAPPY BIRTHDAY!

Andrew Black's birthday is today!
We wish him a happy birthday.

Yesterday he celebrated in advance with a good victory versus the strong team Alexander.

The birthday challenge is very tough, too: he will have to face the Irish team.

The Elements

by Mark Horton

In simplistic terms bridge consists of three elements, Bidding, Play & Defence. Unless you are unlucky, most matches, even short ones should contain at least one interesting example of each. Round 2 of the Open League was a case in point:

Board 5. Dealer North. NS Vul.

	♠ K ♡ J 9 6 2 ♢ Q 8 5 ♣ A K 8 7 6
♠ J 10 7 6 5 ♡ 5 3 ♢ A 4 ♣ J 5 4 3		♠ A 9 ♡ A 10 7 ♢ 10 9 7 6 2 ♣ 10 9 2
	♠ Q 8 4 3 2 ♡ KQ 8 4 ♢ K J 3 ♣ Q

2♢ Game forcing relay

If Bidding, Play & Defence are the elements of bridge, then the opening lead is one of the atoms. When you hold the ace of trumps as a defender, you have numerous options. Here East might look for spade tricks (and/or a possible ruff) or lead a low heart hoping that three rounds of the suit might leave declarer short of tricks, or lead a diamond, hoping that it might be useful and also keeping other options open once dummy has been revealed.

Given that South adopted a game forcing sequence West is unlikely to have much in the way of high cards, so time is not on the defenders side.

East led the ♢10 and West took dummy's king with the ace and returned the ♢4, declarer winning with the queen and continuing with the ♡2. East shot up with the ace, cashed the ♠A and then played the ♢6 for West to ruff - an excellent -100.

With no quick entry to hand, declarer could not play on clubs to discard a diamond from dummy unless he overtakes the ♣Q. Some declarer's faced with a diamond lead and continuation tried that, but they always went at least one down.

4♣ 'Splinter, not very strong hand'

I am pretty sure NS play Blue Club, so 1♡ included a possible canapé.

Here too East led the ♢10 and dummy's jack was taken by the ace. The spade return saw East win and return the nine (it was too late for a second diamond - declarer can win in dummy, pitch a diamond on the ♠Q, unblock the ♣Q and play the ♡K) declarer winning with dummy's queen discarding a diamond from hand. It was then just a question of drawing trumps, +620 and 12 IMPs.

On odd occasions South was the declarer. When West decided to start with two rounds of diamonds declarer had no chance, but sometimes West led a spade and now switching to diamonds was too late.

Board 8. Dealer West. None Vul.

Johan Sylvan

With four Swedish players at the table, the explanations were in their mother tongue - I hope I have interpreted them correctly!

West led the ♣K and declarer won and drew trumps, pitching dummy's ♢6. He then played a club, setting up dummy's jack and when East produced a second club declarer more or less knew that West had started with only three red cards. He took the diamond return with dummy's ace, cashed the diamond king and then played the ♣J pitching a heart. All that remained was to take the heart finesse,+980.

More Swedish to translate in this room - and my computer does not recognise some of the fonts being employed.

Here the club lead was from East and declarer took dummy's ace and drew trumps pitching a club. A diamond to the ace was followed by the king and declarer then cashed the ♡K and ran the ♡10, flattening the board.

West led the ♣K and declarer won and drew trumps pitching the ♡9. A second club saw West win with the queen. After pitching a heart East was down to ♡Q75 ♢Q1085 and if West exits with a club it will be time to throw in the towel as pitching a diamond allows declarer to ruff out the queen. West preferred to try a heart, +980.

Here's a deal to set the pulse racing. EW are cold for 6♡ while NS have a good save in spades.

4♠ 'Heart support (not clear)'

I can understand why South bid 5♠, but 5♣ might be a better move, especially if NS bid 6♠ and EW go on to 7♡. As South's double might have been Lightner, North led a diamond and declarer was able to take all the tricks, +1860.

2♢ Spades and Clubs
3♡ 6+♡, game forcing

The two suited overcall put the club suit into the picture making a save in spades even more of a certainty. East started with the ♢Q and then played the ace followed by the king, promoting West's ♠K for -200, a small matter of 17 IMPs.

You can debate the best action with the South cards after the opening bid of 1♢. One advantage of overcalling 1♠ is that West will be on lead against a spade contract and not leading a diamond allows declarer to score 11 tricks - not insignificant if the contract happens to be 5♠ doubled.

8 pairs were left to play in 6♡ while 7 pairs saved in 6♠.

Too many deals like this could turn one into a nervous wreck!
